

It's Time that the Owner of DHL Obey the Law!

Jürgen Weber chairs the boards of Deutsche Post, the parent company of DHL, and Lufthansa. Under his leadership, these companies have made headlines and raised serious questions about their business practices.

Deutsche Post/ DHL—A Law Breaker?

- “Deutsche Post CEO Resigns Over Tax Evasion” (Spiegel OnLine, February 15, 2008)
- “Ohio Reviewing Antitrust Implications of DHL-UPS Deal” (Dayton Daily News, June 2, 2008)

*Dr. Jürgen Weber, Deutsche Post/DHL
Chairman, Supervisory Board*

Lufthansa—A Law Breaker?

- “Lufthansa Raided in Cargo Price-Fixing Inquiry” (New York Times, February 15, 2006)
- “Lufthansa Settles Price Fixing Case for $85 Million” (BBC News, September 12, 2006)
- “EU Raids Lufthansa Offices in Price-Fixing Probe into Passenger Air Traffic Between Europe and Japan” (Reuters, March 11, 2008)

Dr. Jürgen Weber, Lufthansa Chairman, Supervisory Board

Deutsche Post/ DHL—Job Destroyer

- “UPS/DHL Deal Could Eliminate More than 10,000 Jobs” (Dayton Daily News, June 6, 2008)
- “Ohio Seeks Reimbursement of Assistance Given to DHL” (Dayton Daily News, May 30, 2008)
- “Small Ohio City Fears DHL’s Air-cargo Move at Wilmington Will Devastate Region” (Associated Press, June 6, 2008)

DHL now seeks to give all of its North American air operations to UPS, one of its main competitors. This proposed deal eliminates competition and may well violate U.S. antitrust laws. It is certainly an appalling betrayal of the thousands of Ohio workers who serve DHL.

DHL claims it is complying with the law.
If you believe that, see above.

Paid for by the Air Line Pilots Association, Int'l.
(Affiliated with AFL-CIO and CLC)